Electronic Submission via Web Browser

Journal of the Physical Society of Japan (JPSJ) is now accepting new manuscripts submitted electronically via Web browsers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts in electronic form so the manuscripts can be processed without postal delay and will be published more quickly. Authors can submit their electronic manuscripts prepared as  $\text{\LaTeX} 2_{\epsilon}$  or Adobe PDF files by uploading them to the JPSJ Web site. The details of the procedure for electronic submission are available from the JPSJ Web page (<http://wwwsoc.nii.ac.jp/jps/jpsj/esubmission.html>). JPSJ is still accepting new manuscripts submitted by conventional mail in hard copy form in the same way as before.

We hope authors enjoy the benefit of the new system that promises the easy submission and quick publication of papers.

Koji Kajita
Chief Editor
